PDO Honey Derma Threads are used for ‘non surgical’ face and neck lifts, as well as facial rejuvenation and wrinkle reducing treatments.

This minimally invasive procedure uses dissolvable PDO (Polydioxanone), a material used in medicine for many years - mainly in heart surgery.

PDO Threads relax muscles and tendons while stimulating the production of new collagen in the skin. PDO also stimulates the production of elastin and hyaluronic acid in the skin, vital for creating youthful looking skin.

Effective in facial lifting and wrinkle removal through self-stimulation of cells. There should be minimal interruption in daily life and the threads will be fully absorbed in the body within 6 months. The product is biodegradable and biocompatible and the effects of treatment should last approximately 2 years.
